

Thomas Florio @ 7 PM May 10, 2025

Description

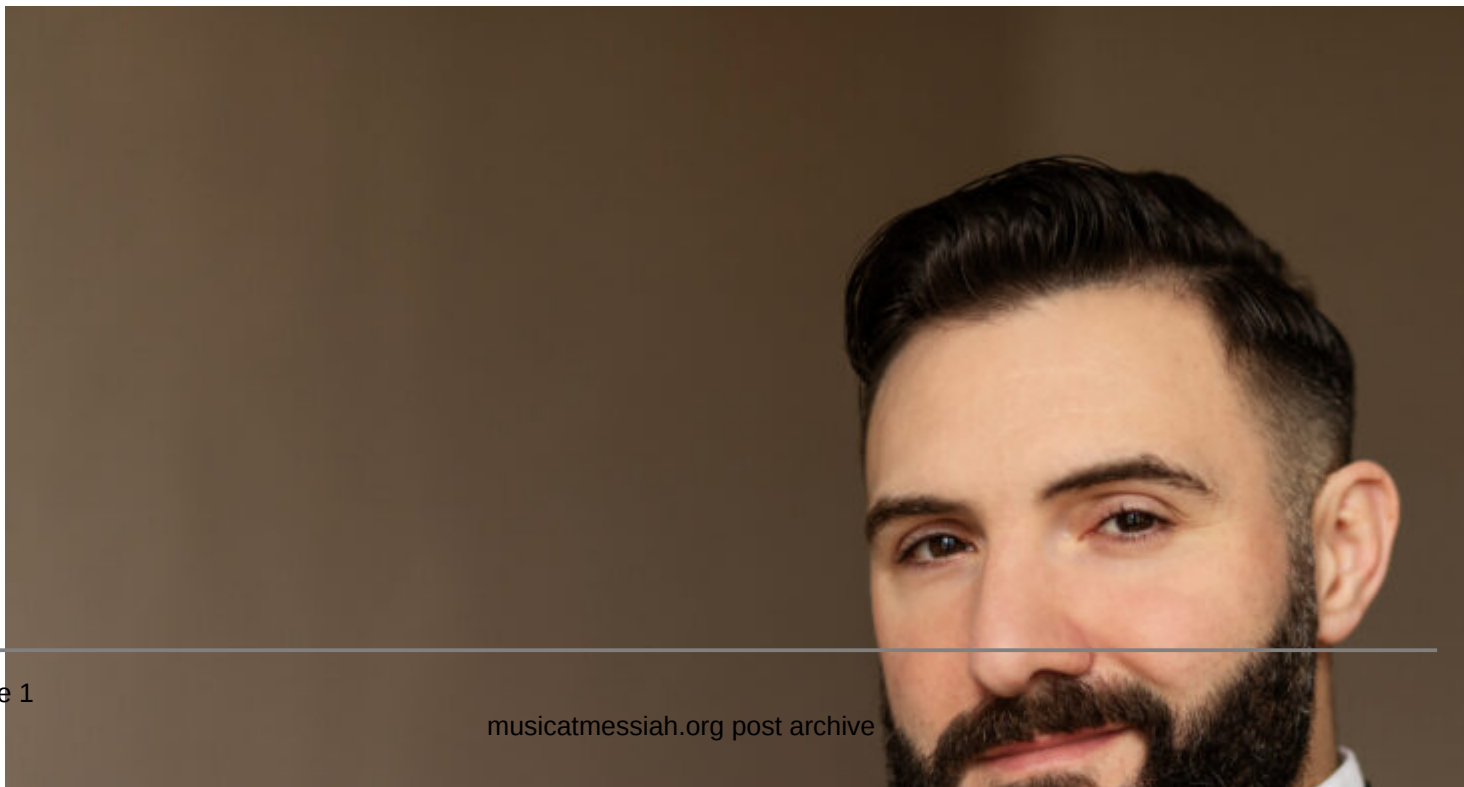

THIS JUST IN! Tune in to WLRH (89.3 FM) on Friday, May 9 at 11:00 AM for a live interview with Thomas Florio by Ginny Kennedy. For more information visit www.wlrh.org

The Music at Messiah Concert Series is excited to present baritone Thomas Florio in our upcoming May 10 concert at 7 p.m. at Messiah Lutheran Church in Madison, Alabama. Donations at the door support the Music at Messiah Series and their mission to feature professional musicians and vocalists for the community to enjoy. He will be accompanied by Melanie Payne. A reception will follow the concert with an opportunity to meet this artist.

Concert: Sat., May 10, 2025, at 7:00 p.m.
7740 Highway 72 West, Madison, Alabama

Florio has a highly engaging and textured vocal concert featuring Gerald Finzi's "Let Our Garlands Bring," light-hearted songs by Emmanuel Chabrier, including "Villanelle des Petits Canards," and songs by Fanny Mendelssohn. The concert will conclude with "Five Mystical Songs" by Ralph Vaughan Williams. Members of Messiah's Choir, directed by Randall Fields, will also take part in this choral work.

About the Artist:

Thomas Florio (photo credit Oliver Look)

American baritone Thomas Florio has performed opera and chamber music across Europe with the Paris Philharmonic, Opéra national de Lorraine, Oslo Philharmonic, Staatsoper Hamburg, Bayerische Staatsoper, Deutsche Oper Berlin, Berlin Philharmonic, Turku Music Festival, and others. In particular, his interpretation of Peter Maxwell Davies's™ Eight Songs for a Mad King as "peerless" (NRC Handelsblad), "a grand master of using his voice" (Hufvudstadsbladet), and "vocalism seamlessly combined with physical expression" (Rondo Classic).

In addition to his work on stage, Thomas is a Certified Internal Family Systems (IFS) Therapist and maintains a private psychotherapy practice in Berlin. He has held workshops on IFS with training programs including the Staatsoper Hamburg Opera Studio and the Royal Danish Opera Academy, where he uses the compassionate, non-pathologizing principles of IFS to help young artists turn their fiercest inner critics into their greatest artistic strengths.

For more information visit www.musicatmessiah.org

Music at Messiah Classical Concert Series is a music outreach initiative of Messiah Lutheran Church which was founded in 2013. The Series is self supporting. Your donations are greatly appreciated. Advertising and sponsorship opportunities available.

Category

1. Concerts
2. News
3. Performers

Date Created

April 23, 2025

Author

music13